AIA CV's Experience Architecture: Celebrate our region and the unique Central Valley experience through architecture!

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA – The American Institute of Architects, Central Valley Chapter (AIACV), announces the fourth annual Experience Architecture event. This year's activities run from Thursday, October 22 through Sunday, October 25, 2015 and include exclusive tours, such as the Top of the City "new sites" tour; a multi-stop "Tour d' Architecture" Bike Tour; the Architectura Obscura Photography Exhibition and Reception; two insightful film screenings/panel discussions--one at Sacramento State, and one at the Crocker Art Museum--and a Design Awards presentation celebrating the 2015 award winning projects.

Visit aiacv.org/da-exparch/ for a PDF Festival Guide with full details on all the events, as well as links to register. Follow the buzz with the hashtag #SacArch15.

Experience Architecture engages members of the public, design enthusiasts, architects and designers with a deeper appreciation for our region's rich architectural and design heritage, as well as current achievements and vision for the future. Every event is open to the general public. Last year's event was attended by nearly 1,000 people.

The event is produced by a core group of the AIA Central Valley's 500 members with support from community partners including the Crocker Art Museum, Sacramento State University's Department of Design and Comstock's Magazine; as well as numerous sponsors including ARC, California Survey & Drafting, Ideate, Inc., SMUD, Milgard Windows & Doors, Fulcrum Property and Wood Rodgers.
