

AIA
Central Valley

A BITE OF DESIGN: KRU

AIA Central Valley and IIDA Northern California team up to tour the new location of KRU.

Enjoy a special selection of sushi + small bites and a discussion with architect Daryl Chinn, AIA, interior designer Whitney Johnson of MTA Inspired Spaces and Chef Billy Ngo. See the kitchen and stay for happy hour or dinner!

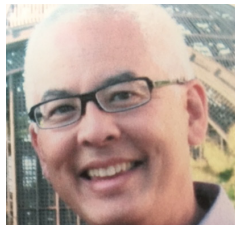

Photo Credit: Blackfield Photography

PLACE: KRU, 3135 Folsom Boulevard, Sacramento
DATE: Tuesday, February 21, 2017
TIME: 3 - 5 pm
COST: $20 Members, $30 Non-Members, presentation + appetizers, Japanese whiskey tastings and no-host bar available

PARKING: Lot directly behind the building. There is also a free shared parking lot with OBO Italian Table & Bar on Seville Way off Folsom Boulevard
REGISTER: by Friday, February 17th to biteofdesignkru.bpt.me

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

| Daryl Chinn, AIA

Darryl Chinn has been involved with urban projects here in Sacramento since 1986. His projects include new and remodeled restaurants, infill housing, and neighborhood serving retail and commercial spaces.

| Whitney Johnson, IIDA

Hospitality Designer with MTA Inspired Spaces. Whitney can be linked to many of the go-to spaces in town, including: KRU, Grange, Bottle and Barlow, Hook and Ladder, Shady Lady Saloon, Sactown Union Brewery, Fish Face just to name a few.

| Billy Ngo

Chef Billy Ngo is the Founder, Chef and Partner of Kru Contemporary Japanese Cuisine, Fish Face Poke Bar and Healthy Hounds Kitchen in Sacramento, CA. Throughout his career, Billy has become known for his use of the best ingredients and flavor, and his commitment to increasing sustainability in his menu.